

IEC Web Site Unique Visits (2007 -2010)

For the years 2007 through 2010, the viewership of the site has steadily grown from 620,498 unique visitors ⁽¹⁾ per year in 2007 to 803,340 in 2008, to 850,920 in 2009 and finally to 1,230,776 in 2010.

During this period of steadily growth in attracting visitors, the site has attracted thousands of visitors each year and has become one of the most easily accessed sites about information on Shia, especially with the unique online library with more than 2200 books in Farsi and 100 books in English. The extensive sound archive of some of the most important scholars in Shia Theology, Irfan, Tafseer, and Ethics, with hundreds of documents of educational materials on Islam and Shia has helped many people from around the world to learn and to educate others about the School of Thoughts of Ahlulbayt (as).

Needless to say, that with one volunteer ⁽²⁾ working on the site, neither we can nor we intend to expand the site and its content beyond what is available at this moment. In fact, any attention to one part of the Web site comes at the expense of the other parts.

Currently, all efforts are concentrated if publishing in four areas:

1. Online library
2. Sound archive of great scholars
3. Special pages on important occasions (Ramadhan, Muharram, etc.)
4. Hujatuleslam Bahraini's selected excerpts of lecture and diaries.

The work on Online library is several hours each day and the other three when they are available.

Currently, the online library is the most visited portion of our Web site. The IEC Web site currently has close to 5 thousand unique visitors daily. For example, for the first 15 days of January 2011, there have been more than 70,000 unique visitors.

1. Unique visitor statistics, counts the number of IP addresses that access the site as opposed to counting how many times it is accessed. Therefore, it only counts multiple accesses from a computer only as one access each day. Although, this creates an undercount when a computer is used by more than one person it still offers a more realistic picture of the use of the site

2. In this report, the junior youth site which is done by another brother is not considered since it is on a non IEC site. In addition, for the past 3 years, programs and lectures are archived at a different site and that is also not considered.
